SPECIALITY FOOD TRADERS LTD

Selected Quality Products from Italy

Speciality Food Traders Ltd has been trading since 2003 and continues to offer authentic Italian, high quality, artisan food products at competitive prices. We stock only products made in Italy with quality ingredients from produce, traditionally grown on the Apennine Peninsula by generations of farmers. Most of our suppliers are small, family run businesses, which use local, traditional recipes for food preparation, handed down by generations.

We trade in non-perishable, selected, quality products with retailers and offer flexible and prompt delivery terms to our customers. Throughout the years of supplying some well-known and renowned for quality delicatessen, food malls and independent outlets, we became known for providing products of excellent quality and efficient service. Our experienced team is always ready to advise and help with enquiries.

In this catalogue, we have extended our range of products and introduced new ones, ensuring that they all meet our requirements of high standard. We hope that our selection appears both interesting and attractive and we can reassure, that we will continue to provide our customers with friendly and professional service.

BENEDETTO CAVALIERI ARTISANAL PASTA

Pastificio Benedetto Cavalieri was founded in 1918 in the region of Apulia in the South of Italy. It makes top quality artisanal pasta from locally grown durum wheat flour by a manufacturing process called "delicate method" which involves long knead-ing, slow pressing, drawing and drying at a low temperature. Pasta shapes are made with bronze dies, which give a rough surface to the finished pasta allowing it to hold more sauce. The pasta has the flavour of quality durum wheat with natural chewy texture and high nutritional value of wheat retaining carbohydrates and proteins.

BALSAMIC VINEGAR OF MODENA

Acetaia Leonardi under Acetaia Reale brand

The Leonardi family has been producing balsamic vinegar for four generations. The century long tradition requires the wine must to be obtained from grapes and put in small wooden barrels used for a specific process: acidification (vinegar making), maturation and ageing. In the cellar of a 19th century farmhouse rest 2000 precious wooden barrels made of oak, chestnut, cherry, ash, mulberry and juniper. Each of them gives its very special taste and aroma to the Acetaia Reale Balsamic Vinegar during ageing. The taste is penetrating but pleasing and harmonious with pleasant smell.

Balsamic Vinegar IGP

(Protected Geographical identification)

Subject to strict regulation by European Commission regarding production (min 80% of cooked grape must), acidity value 6%, specific size of bottles and aging must be shown not in numbers but in medals i.e. 1 medal equals 2 years

Balsamic Vinegar Condiments

Condiments are not subject to the strict production requirements of IGP products and the acidity value is around 4.5-5%. Balsamic Condiments are obtained through the same production and ageing process as IGP products, however they are less acidic and therefore sweeter. White Balsamic Condiment is produced from white grape must acetified and aged in oak barrels that give the typical amber colour.
